Product description

Brittany, late afternoon. A narrow path disappears into the heart of the forest—unusual, beautiful, and quietly mysterious—winding its way through towering hydrangea bushes. In Brittany, the hydrangea is an emblematic flower, unfolding in countless varieties and an endless spectrum of color: soft whites, tender pinks, luminous blues, and deep violets. Beyond these lush blooms, a dark wall of forest slowly reveals itself, painted in cool greens and shadowed blues, forming a contrasting backdrop that deepens the silence and mystery of the scene.
