Product description

La Pointe des Poulains, the jewel of Belle-Île. A wonderful place. At any time of the year, the landscape sparkles with unusual colors... a delight for painters.

The lighthouse was built in 1868, the lighthouse keepers and their families lived in this building for a long time, until it was automated in 1987. At the northwest end of Belle-Île-en-Mer. In Breton, "Beg-er-Bolenn" (point of isolated rocks) was the first name of the place, French for Pointe des Poulains. Here, the landscape is entirely a matter of aquatic magic: between the passage of the famous Coureaux de Belle-Île and the calm waters of the bay of Quiberon, the ocean offers a constant spectacle which, depending on the season...
