Product description

A small fishing port... The most beautiful in southern Brittany! Sauzon, a small fishing port located northwest of Belle-ile. It consists of white houses with colorful shutters, interspersed with very colorful houses, which painters and photographers have immortalized in their works because of their special charm, the pastel colors and the more than a kilometer long ria that runs rises to the valley. I painted this picture in the afternoon, when the sun beautifully illuminates the facades of the houses, including the beautiful colored reflections of glow in the water, between even more colorful fishing boats.
