Product description

The beautiful Gedelins Beach—vast and golden—is a dreamlike place for long walks and summer relaxation. I love painting it in spring, before the tourists arrive, when an extraordinary calm settles over the landscape. In the painting, only a small portion of the beach is visible, revealed by the retreating tide. In the distance, you can see a small rock known as "David," with a diving platform perched on top—popular with children during high tide. It's a family-friendly beach, full of charm and gentle energy.
