Product description

Acrylic on canvas. Painting made in strange circumstances. A year earlier, I was asked to do a painting to order. It was a very large triptych "Wild medicinal plants in Brittany". I prepared for a long time. I read, I did photographic documentation. I painted the picture in a few days... with great precision. It was pretty exhausting...lots of detail and realism. After completing the commission, I decided to paint an abstract painting...inspired by the composition of the field with medicinal plants. Here is the result.
